

Continue with letter formation, name writing and writing words you can make using your sounds.

See if you can learn to read and write these red words... two small love many here

This week we are going to be doing some activities based around the book Man on the Moon by Simon Bartram. He also wrote the book Dougal's Deep Sea Diary.

Have a listen to the book

Talk about the book.

- Where is the story set?
- Who is the main character?
- What happened in the story, what is your favourite part?

Click on my bookshelf and look at the books Sound Blending (There are 3 books in total - Sound blending 1, 2 and 3) Can you time yourself? How quickly can you read the words? Do you know what they mean? Can you put them into a sentence?

Explore the books on Oxford Owl. There are many books on there that follow our home reading scheme. You may find the one that follows the reading book your child has so you can move on.

Imagine an Alien arrived in our classroom. He can't speak any English and is feeling a bit frightened. Can you draw a picture of you with the Alien? Don't forget to label your picture giving the Alien a name.

Can you make a list of things you would do to make the Alien feel welcome in our class?

Reception English tasks for Week Beginning 11th May Remember to keep writing your name and names of family members.

Draw a picture of Bob from our story. Can you write words or a sentence to describe what he is like?

Can you pretend to be Bob and write a postcard from the moon? (There is a postcard template in a separate document) Describe what it's like, what he has seen. Don't forget to design the front of your postcard. Do you know your address? The postcard is for you! Have a look at where you would write the address and have a go at writing it. Can you spot where the stamp would go?

Keep those fingers moving and do some finger painting as a background for a space picture.

Don't forget to check out our story time section on the Home Learning page.

There's also a link to daily live phonics lessons.
