

Hint

Here are some different conjunctions that you might use in your writing.

Co-ordinating conjunctions	Subordinating conjunctions
and	because but	if
so	while
or	although
for	after
nor	since
yet	even though

1. Tick the boxes to show which show whether the conjunction is co-ordinating or subordinating.

Co-ordinating

Subordinating

- We're moving house because we need more room.
- When we go to school, we travel by bus.
- Dad said we could stroke the dog but we had to be careful.
- It could have been a mistake or he could have done it on purpose.
- It was raining so we put on our anoraks.
- While they were away, I looked after their cats.

2. Complete the sentence with the appropriate conjunctions. Use each conjunction only once.

or	but	and
-----------	------------	------------

For dinner, you can have chicken _____ potatoes _____ chips _____ there are no vegetables left!