

Hello,

It was lovely to speak to some of you last week and check in with how you are getting on. After speaking to some of you, children missing out on spellings was mentioned as a concern so we will now be adding spellings to our weekly work too. These words are the words that Year 1 children should know by the end of the year and feature all the Year 1 sounds the children will come across during the year in Phonics.

This week in my house we have been baking stained glass biscuits and creating some sun reflectors to hang in the windows.

It has been lovely to hear what some of you have been up to including Riley's writing; Faith's science experiments and artwork; Lola and Grace riding their bikes without stabilisers; and Louisa practising her phonics and losing her first tooth.
